Give Christmas Shoppers More Time

The Edmonton Chamber of Commerce on behalf of a group of retail merchants will make application to city council Monday night for the privilege of keeping their stores open until 9 p.m. on certain nights preceding Christmas as has been the custom for some years. The request does not suggest dates on which this privilege is accorded, nor the number of nights the merchants desire to have late closing. Last year one night only, the Saturday preceding Christmas, was fixed as the day on which retail stores could remain open until 9 p.m. The city commissioners suggest that Thursday, December 26, be fixed as the day for late closing. It is estimated that about 28,000, 600 homes in the United States are equipped with radios.

$5,000 Damages Sought in Claim

Frank L. Johnston, alias John Morris, Vancouver, pleaded guilty to stealing nine fur coats and four other articles when he appeared before Magistrate A. L. Miller in city police court Saturday. He was remanded until Dec. 2 for sentence. He posed as a carpenter to measure the woodwork around the windows in a city department store cloakroom two weeks ago, it was revealed. It was stated that the accused entered a city department store, went to the men's cloak room where he removed the coat and hat. Then he went to the women's cloak room, taking with him a ruler. Several women saw him there, but he was measuring around the windows and told them some alterations were going to be made. He later made off with the coats. Six of the coats were stolen in Edmonton, the other three in Calgary. Also stolen in Edmonton was a violin taken from a city church. A garbade coat, sweater and a pair of trousers were the other articles stolen from the southern city. Police have recovered all stolen articles which the accused had sold. Johnston was arrested in Regina following a warrant issued for his arrest in Edmonton. In court the accused had nothing to say in answer to the charge. A nine month term of imprisonment was imposed on James Leslie, Macleod, who appeared for sentence on one charge of forgery and three false pretences counts. The cheques involved $318. The accused had made restitution of $81. On the forgery charge he was sentenced to nine months and six months on each of the other charges, terms to be concurrent. William Beal, 30, fixed abode, charged with stealing a rifle brace from a city department store, was sentenced to six weeks imprisonment. The accused's record showed previous convictions in Calgary, Saskatoon, Moose Jaw and Regina.

Raises Crop Ante For U.S. Farmers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Agriculture Secretary Anderson last night announced 1948 United States farm production goals calling for a continuation of high wartime levels of output. His goals, which serve as guides to American farmers, call for 9,000,000 acres more of cultivated and non-cultivated crops than the 347,000,000 acres used to produce this year's near-record total of farm commodities. AIR FORCE CADETS Regular parade of the Royal Canadian Air Force Cadets will be held at 100 hours Monday, Nov. 24. University Play Opens on Thursday

Preparations are almost complete for the University Drama Society's presentation of "Winter," a three-act play by Maxwell Anderson. The play, major production for the year by the society, will be staged in Convocation Hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The cast includes 20 students, headed by Donna Cross, daughter of Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and welfare, and Dick Macdonald, of Edmonton. Miss Cross last year won the award for best campus actress. Others in the cast are James Scott, David Smith, Stanley Pettybridge, Betty Howarth, and Gordon Peacock. "Winter" has been described as a "twisted tangle of hate, cruelty, cowardice, and love." It is a sequel to the famous U.S. Sacco-Vanzetti case, in which two men were condemned to death by American courts, and later were proven innocent by evidence discovered by university law students reviewing the case. The play is under the direction of E. R. Whitehouse, of the university department of fine arts. Special sets have been designed by Professor R. G. H. Orchard, of the fine arts department.

For Better Bus Service

Most Edmonton people are convinced that the trolley buses now in operation on many of the lines in this city offer a superior transportation service to that which was offered by street cars.

The buses are faster, more comfortable and better lighted. So far they appear to be less subject to delays through mechanical breakdowns than the older vehicles.

Nevertheless, the use of trolley buses, so far as Edmonton is concerned, is still, in a measure, experimental. In other words, the maximum use can be extracted from these buses only if every defect and disadvantage is carefully considered and eliminated if possible.

One disadvantage appears to be that in cold weather the glass front which covers the sign showing the destination of the bus reveals a tendency to frost over. Therefore, at stops where the bus is called for by different destinations, passengers are frequently at a loss to identify the bus they require.

It is an inconvenience to the passenger and service is slowed up when passengers have to halt the bus and enquire its destination.

It would be of benefit to the public if each bus were decorated plainly in the front with large numbers to indicate its route. The small number on the back is not enough, particularly when frost makes the present front signs illegible.

Another feature that inconveniences the public and slows service is the fact that buses, apparently, may stop within a possible range of 20 to 35 feet. Some halt as near as possible to the intersection, others as near to the end of the bus clearance zone.

There should be some sign to indicate exactly where the bus is to stop. If no drivers should be asked to stop as nearly as possible to that precise point.

When passengers waiting to board a bus have to run back or forward some 20 feet, unless they can guess the intention of the driver, valuable operating time is lost—to say nothing of the exasperation of the customers.

The Time to Expand

The one way to restore Canada's position of balanced trade with the United States and to keep the exchange in balance thereafter is to ship more Canadian products to that country and to others in the dollar area. Restrictions temporarily imposed upon imports from these countries are aimed at helping restore the balance. That is all that they can do. Larger exports also will be required to effect this restoration; while only larger exports can maintain the balance once it has been attained.

There would be no long-range purpose in pursuing a negative policy of shutting out United States goods until the equilibrium has been restored and then plunging again into excess importing—and thus pile up another adverse balance against Canada. Production expansion is required to that and other dollar countries should be encouraged to that end, both help to correct the present situation and prevent it occurring again.

The same holds true in respect to the trade agreements which Canada has signed with seventeen countries, and which are likely to be followed by like agreements with many more. They will have to be all-out production if we are going to get from these agreements the benefits for which they clear the way. How much we can import under the reduced tariffs will depend on how much we export. If we are to get ample supplies of goods from the contracting countries we shall have to ship products to them in proportion.

The new trade agreements and the embargoes placed on United States goods are contradictory in appearance. The embargoes seem to cancel, for a time, the opportunities opened up by the agreements for which these policies are complementary in one basically important particular. Both call for larger production—therefore for larger production. Without this, neither the purpose of the restrictions nor the purpose of the trade agreements can be gained.

Canada has been given two strong inducements to produce more things for export. That is the one way to rectify our exchange account with the United States; and it is the one way to get the maximum benefit from the trade agreements.

In measure, the restriction of imports from the United States gives Canada a temporary protection against competition, and thus invites a sharp expansion of productive enterprise. And whatever momentum is thus gained will stand us in good stead when the trade agreements come into effect and seventeen or more countries under their markets to our products under similar terms than these have hitherto had to meet.

If Canadian producers are wise in their day they will enlarge their factories and other productive facilities as rapidly as they can. They never had such strong incentives to do this in peacetime as they now have. The opportunities opened up to them are limited only by their own readiness to plan for bigger things, and the financial and other resources which they have at their disposal.

The Public Right

Hon. Gordon Wismer, British Columbia's minister of labor, has announced that legislation will be introduced at the next session of the legislature of that province to the effect of which will be to set a time-limit for negotiations between employers and employees when a dispute arises which results in the stoppage of an industry.

The statement followed the settlement of the transit strike in the coast cities, and the effect of that prolonged tie-up of the transportation system. No details of the legislation were given, but the purpose obviously is to protect the public right to service. The inference from the statement is that when the proposed time-limit has been reached the legislature will step into the picture—whether to decide terms of settlement or to order a resumption of operations while further discussions go on.

There will naturally be interest in other provinces also in this proposal, the details of which will be awaited with close attention. Heretofore the public—their right to service in labor disputes—has got little attention, if any at all, when employer and employee deadlocked and an employer or even vital industry closed down. Since it is the public who supply the money to pay dividends and wages, this high-handed disregard for the rights of the customers is a good preventive measure.

If Mr. Wismer has found a workable procedure by which that right can be protected he will deserve—and undoubtedly get—thanks from people in all parts of Canada.

May Not Be Needed

Mr. Coldwell, CCF leader, predicts that restricting imports from the United States will cause prices to rise in Canada and increase the cost of living. Whether this prediction will come true cannot be known until shown by events, some weeks hence. Prophecies sometimes fail.

If there should be a substantial upward movement of prices traceable to the imposition of duties on imports from the United States, price controls will be in order. If that does not happen controls would be needless. There is no purpose, Mr. Coldwell perhaps dissenting, in maintaining controls just for the sake of doing so.

U.S. Tariff Reduction

By BRUCE HUTCHISON
 The present inflationary situation here, the government is anxious to keep within the United States as the shortest route possible to satisfy the enormous public demand. Goods which are not shipped to the United States are sold to U.S. consumers or shipped abroad for resale.

However, that reasoning will hardly apply to the individual U.S. consumer. The citrus fruit and vegetable growers, the makers of engines and other machinery, here in imported foreign goods. It would seem from the tone of Mr. Abbott's speech that the former approach is to be followed, that negotiations for the new treaty will not be pressed until the next United States election is out of the way, the United States government would prefer that Canada should not press the issue in an election year.

Under all these conditions the Canadian government must now decide when and how it should approach its long-term solution in the proposed trading treaty. On the one hand, it is evident that the United States government would prefer that Canada should not press the issue in an election year.

The quota system applied to foreign imports must be altered in the same way. Obviously this must be a temporary measure for the time being. It is a kind of importers monopoly in Canada, imports being channelled through the quota system. The business on the basis of their quota system is a very bad condition it is felt here could not long continue in a free enterprise system.

The REAL QUESTION, therefore—perhaps the largest question in the whole economic history of Canada—is whether the United States will agree to a reduction in its tariffs on Canadian goods far more drastic than that announced under the new Geneva Treaty.

It is not a question of whether the United States will agree to a reduction in its tariffs on Canadian goods far more drastic than that announced under the new Geneva Treaty. It is a question of whether the United States will agree to a reduction in its tariffs on Canadian goods far more drastic than that announced under the new Geneva Treaty.

The Dollar Crisis

By ELMORE PHILPOT
 The dollar crisis, which was more difficult to critics than that of 1939 unless it can find a sure outlet for the vastly increased capacity for production, is now being met. War, to date, this has been accomplished by shipping goods close to a billion dollars worth of goods and services per month.

Clean-Up Drive

From News Story
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24. (AP). — A reporter with time on his hands what he could see and returned to write a $50,000,000 story.

The reporter, Albert A. Riley of the Atlanta Constitution, still is dazed by the whole business.

That first story he wrote has snowballed into a series of articles and a major campaign backed by Atlanta's city fathers to demolish and replace 6,000 sub-standard dwellings and to make major repairs to 34,000 others over a five-year period.

For financing, the city passed a resolution asking that companies and individuals submit plans for replacing these 6,000 units by March 15, 1948. It is estimated that the project will cost $50,000,000.

Lethbridge Leafs Stem Belated Regina Rally

LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 24.—(CP)—Lethbridge Maple Leafs went into a second place tie with Calgary Stampede in the Western Canada Senior League Saturday night. They withstood a furious Regina assault in the final 30 minutes to edge out the league-leaders 7-5.

Billy Gibson, with a goal and three assists, led the Lethbridge Leafs to victory. Bob Krupar, Steve Maxwell, Ken Simpson, Jack Taggart, Grant Hall and Roy Fox also picked up singles. Billy Kyle with two goals, was top man for Regina. Joe Fisher, Vic Myers and Jack Wilkie also scored for Caps.

LEAFS LED 3-0 at the end of the first, made it 4-0 after three minutes of the second. Three successive Regina goals made it 4-3 at the end of the second. Leafs outscored Caps 3-2 in the third.

Leafs went one up at the 2:15 mark of the opening session, as Krupar's breakaway. Simpson, as well as he 2-0 in minutes after on Gibson's pass in front of Gerry Fisher's cage.

Simpson scored the prettiest goal of the night when he took Gibson's long pass and scored in to pull Foley out of position before beating the puck home.

TAGGART beat Foley cleanly after the second period. He was stopped in front of the net after receiving Gibson's pass. He filled their first goal within minutes of Maxwell's banishment for tripping (Hall). He was followed by a dribbler along the ice from Billy Kyle.

After Low Hanks went off for holding, Foley made three breakaway shots in the third period. Simpson, Maxwell and then Gibson firing at him.

Finally Kyle and Fisher broke it 4-2. Kyle beating Hughes with a shot from directly from the net. Less than a minute later Fisher's shot, fired through a

South-Sea Wins 9-2

Maple Leaf Juniors Shade EAC Pucksters

South Sea and Maple Leafs maintained their tie for leadership in the Junior Hockey League at the arena Saturday night, as Jimmy Graham's southerners crushed the youthful Canadians 9-2 and Leafs smacked EACs 3-1.

More than 1,100 junior fans filtered through the arena portals to witness the doubleheader.

Most of the night's action was packed into the Maple Leaf-EAC game, with the blue and whites forced to come back strongly from a 2-1 deficit before subduing the coming EAC sextet.

THE QUICK-MOVING South Sea, which had been leading 3-0 after their third win of the season, showed a pair of markers in each of the first two frames, and then plunking in five in the third.

Jack Davies, husky South Sea defenseman, set the pace with three smart goals. Don Korgard with two markers, and John Smith with one, were the fly for the winners. Bob Gass, Ken Johnson and Mike Smith, McDonald each netted singles.

A couple of Doug-Campbell and McClockie's regulars turned the Maple Leafs' defense into a shambles.

THE MAPLE LEAFS were pressed right down to the final whistle in the second tussle, and were on the short end of a 2-1 count until Dave Little, Harry EAC defenseman, was given a two-minute stretch in the cooler.

Coach Ted Allard's hustling hockeyers capitalized on the opportunity, tying the score with two quick goals before the resumption of action. They added another pair of markers in the final frame to put the game away.

LITTLE RONNIE Phillips sparked the Leafs to victory with two goals. McCall, Patterson and Marshall each netted one. The Leafs' defense, led by Dickson and Dave Butler, scored for the losers.

THE NON-STOP, fast-moving South Sea goal-tender, left the game in the third period, when he was on the skin with a flying disc. The wound required three stitches to close. "Porky" Perkins finished the game.

He captured the San Francisco County Handicap over a 1/4 mile route at Bay Meadows Sunday.

AAU Allocates Trials During Final Session

By Lorne Bruce
LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 24.—(CP)—The Canadian Olympic Association, meeting in conjunction with final sessions of the annual convention of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, Saturday allocated Olympic trials for Canadian athletes in seven sports and advanced plans for next summer's games.

After the union decided the Olympic trials would be the championship meets, the association gave Montreal track and field, swimming and basketball, Toronto wrestling, fencing and gymnastic championships; Hamilton the marathon.

THE UNION rejected by unanimous vote the idea of a national trials, which would be held in one city. They are: president, George C. Macdonald, Montreal; vice-president, N. C. Hart, London, Ont.; second vice-president, Robert F. Osborne, Vancouver; honorary treasurer, Ken E. Yost, Winnipeg; secretary, Claude C. Robinson, Vancouver.

Though it passed a resolution recommending the request of Sylvanus Apps, Ontario athletic commission, for cooperation in an effort to make Toronto amateur honors eligible for AAU and international competition, the union rejected Apps' appeal for the lifting of its embargo against the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

A. W. PICKARD of Regina, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, was invited to attend the convention and a meeting which was held at the CAHA and AAU headquarters at night.

Manitoba Wins Women's Honors At Gala Here

Male aquatic stars from the University of Alberta split the honors at the North West Art Command pool Saturday, and spined home with a western intercollegiate swimming championship. Powered by crew-cut Don Moore of Edmonton, and Bob Duffin from Calgary, the Alberta team nipped ahead of Manitoba, 27 points to 24. A gallery of 150 saw Saskatchewan keep the field well brushed with a 22-point production.

THE VICTORY was the first in nine years for Alberta and brought the Joe Gray trophy to the Green and Gold showcase.

AND in the men's branch the gala Manitoba romp to victory. Margaret Watson, a tall, gruff swimmer from Brandon, led the Huff and Gold to a 44-point aggregate. Saskatchewan followed with 32 points, and Manitoba with 24.

Send Some Joy

This is the last week in which you may get a food or clothing parcel off across the Atlantic with any confidence that it will arrive in time for Christmas.

It is going to be a mighty bleak holiday this year in most of the Old Country homes. We can make our own celebration a little merrier, perhaps, by playing Santa Claus.

It isn't necessary to know anybody in Europe or the U.K. to send a gift. You may send a parcel to a needy family in the British Isles by addressing it to "Unidentified Parcel" to the headquarters of the Women's Voluntary Service, 412 Tenth Street, London, SW 1. Parcels to hard-up people on the Continent can be sent to the organization called CARE. More of that outfit in a minute.

There are several methods of sending food parcels overseas, all of them tested and improved, and a wonderful new plan for expressing butter, poultry, ham, bacon and so on, which I'll also deal with here today.

Most of the large department stores here have complete made-up parcels which, mailed this week, should get to their destination in time for Christmas.

Any food or clothing parcel, or a combination of the two, will bring you joy this year.

Parcels By Air
The new air express plan of sending fresh food to Great Britain is the most unusual of the many methods of sending parcels there. Any servicemen will tell you what a single fresh egg means to an English home.

The parcels are expressed to Canada, Air Line, and delivered in Britain within 48 hours. They are like to send to an English home at the sight of five pounds of fresh Canadian butter.

The second quick-delivery plan is the shipment of parcels from Montreal, ordered by cable here, and delivered in Great Britain or on the continent within a week.

The Danish parcels may be mailed to persons in the U.K. or in Scandinavia, Belgium, Luxembourg, Poland, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Holland, France, Sweden, Norway, Austria, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria, Italy, Greece, Albania, Italy, Spain or Portugal.

Here is a typical Danish parcel: 2 1/2 pounds of smoked haddock, a can of ham and bacon, a can of stewed steak, a can of sugar, a can of dried fruit, a can of strawberry jam and a pound of butter. The parcels are sent to the Danish Red Cross.

THE CARE Plan
Possibly the best parcel-sending plan of all is that of CARE—the Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe Inc. This is worth a closer study than any other.

It is an immense, non-profit organization of important agencies. CARE has up to a wide variety of food and clothing packages, each of which cost the donor little.

Calgary Wants Edmonton Power

A proposal from the Calgary Power Co. to purchase off-peak power from the city for the next three years will come before the city council Monday night.

The company is offering to pay the following kilowatt hour rate depending on the price of coal as it is delivered to the power plant. For coal costing $2.55 a ton or less the company will pay 30 per kilowatt hour, and for coal costing between $2.56 to $2.65 a ton, the price paid would be 31 cents, increasing by 1 cent per kilowatt hour for each 10-cent increase in coal price up to 36 cents per kilowatt hour for energy produced from coal costing $3.06 to $3.15 a ton.

The commissioners report that the company is not prepared to state the actual amount of energy that will be required during any calendar year, such requirements being dependent on the amount of water available in the company's hydro plants. It would appear, the commissioners state in their report to council, that the demand would vary from 10,000,000 kilowatt hours to a possible high of 20,000,000 during any year.

For every 10,000,000 kilowatt hours sold under the above agreement the power plant would make a profit of $8,000 over and above expenses, including the cost of coal, taxes, extra labor, maintenance and depreciation.

The sale of each 10,000 kilowatt hours of power would mean the purchase of an additional 30,000 tons of coal from the Northern Alberta coal mines immediately adjacent to the city.

The company is agreeable to an arrangement by which, in the event that either party to the agreement is in difficulty, the other will come to its assistance up to the limit of its ability.

The commissioners ask for an authority to complete this agreement.

By William E. McKeeney
Here is a very pretty end-play had played by Joseph E. Low of New York, who led to make the correct deduction on it. The hand came up in a duplicate game at the Cavendish Club.

Low knew his partner had a very strong hand when he jumped to four hearts. The important play came on the very first trick.

East had bid four spades, and the opening lead of the three-spot dealt.

Low won the trick with the ace, ruffed a club in dummy, led a heart back to his hand, ruffed another club, returned to his hand with a heart and ruffed the king of clubs.

Now he had to decide what East's probable holding in diamonds was. With no clubs in the North hand, Low felt that East would have at least four clubs. West's opening lead of the three of spades marked East with seven spades, so Low decided that East could not hold more than two diamonds. On this basis he led a small diamond from dummy to his own hand, and returned a diamond to dummy's ace. Then he led the queen of spades, which East won.

Low's deduction proved to be correct, as East had no diamond to cash. He had to lead either a club or a spade, either of which would give the declarer a sluff and a ruff.

Douglas Predicts Yet Higher Costs

REGINA, Nov. 24.—(CP)—Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan believes Canada is verging on a program of economic nationalism as a result of emergency measures imposed by the federal government to conserve its dwindling dollar reserves.

In an address Saturday to the Saskatchewan Federation of Labor he said it had been estimated during the war that the back-log of purchasing power in the United States and Canada was sufficient to insure postwar prosperity for a period of from five to eight years, but a recent statistical analysis had shown most of the purchasing power now was in the hands of moneyed groups who did not purchase consumer goods.

"If we think the cost of living is high now, think what will happen as a consequence of the embargo on United States' imports," he said, predicting another "1919" if present inflationary trends were allowed to continue.

Phony Situation Says Solon Low

WINNIPEG, Nov. 24.—(CP)—Solon Low, Dominion leader of the Social Credit party, has described the austerity program in Canada as "a phony situation" wherein Canadians are likely to suffer physically unless Finance Minister Abbott withdraws import bans such as those on fruits and vegetables.

Addressing the annual convention Saturday of the Manitoba Social Credit League, Mr. Low said production of all essential goods should be kept at a high level to provide a high standard of living and reasonable prices.

Bureaucratic controls tended to bring incentive to produce, he said, but the Social Credit party advocated a system of automatic controls, "which, while keeping up the incentive to produce, also have the effect of regulating prices."

W. Tinkler of Starbuck, Man., was elected president of the Manitoba League.

War On America Movie Expansion

MOSCOW, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The publication Soviet Art said yesterday leaders of Russia's motion picture industry had been told that "it is the obligation of Soviet cinema workers to enter into a mercenary war with American motion picture expansion and to emerge from this war as 'victors.'"

Ailing Girl Wise To Delay Wedding

Dear Miss Dix: I am engaged to a very fine and understanding boy and we expected to be married very soon, but our plans have suddenly been upset. I know that I was not in good health, but I did not know that I was seriously ill until my doctor told me the other day that I would have to be under treatment for at least two years, and that I must not think about marrying until I was entirely cured.

I have told my fiancé how the doctor thought and he has agreed to wait until the engagement is broken. He has before he gives me up. I have to wait two years. I will see if I can be cured in two years. I keep his ring as he wishes me to do, or should I return it? He has not told me how long he will wait for me. I am sure of me. We love each other very much.

sweetheart will lose the two best years of his life if he doesn't marry before he is old enough to notice that a statistician shows far more boy-and-girl marriages end in divorce than that of older people, and this is because boys and girls lack the discipline and the wisdom that come with maturity and hence are unable to make the adjustments that marriage requires.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Do you think that a boy of 18 is too old for a girl of 18? I am in this mental position. I have a girl of 18. I think it is right for my boy friend to marry her, even if he is my steady? It humiliates me terribly, but he doesn't care and does it even if we are at a party. He has told his boy friends that he thinks a girl should be married every once in a while.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman
It seems to me there is no more to play quite so interesting as a typical street scene on any town or city street. If you are a car and watch for an hour or so, and while the panorama of human life will pass before you.

As you observe the milling throng, the impression strengthens that it is a good idea to watch crowds even in a crowd.

I think it is a good idea to watch crowds even in a crowd. You will gain a new understanding of the complexities and problems, as well as the hopes, of the human race. You will wonder if all the activity they are so avidly or grimly indulging in is really worth while.

There is nothing more real than sitting in a car and watching the hectic crowds on a downtown street. I selected the early morning hours down town to watch.

At first I saw men and women hurrying to work. I observed the postures of many husbands and wives. Sometimes they were both going to a job and sometimes the husband to the office and the wife to the family car. These people were hurrying to work.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred
Why do adults like to sit down to a company meal and why does the food taste so much better? Obviously, because of the bright, pleasant "company" atmosphere.

Do we parents think of that when we poke food into a child's mouth? I doubt very much whether the busy mother thinks of anything except whether the little mix is eating what he has prepared for him and in adequate amount.

Seemingly, the very care of poor attitudes would be the one which illustrated his bad humor with a spanking. How can a parent make a child like what he is eating or make him want to eat—by spanking him?

Yet mothers are forever telling me that they spanked their children because they couldn't eat or fuss or what have you.

One of the rights of children, accepted and proclaimed as such, is the right to eat when they are hungry and as much or as little as they please. There could be no more fundamental privilege. To satisfy hunger is a pleasure. Appetite springs up because of a succession of such pleasurable experiences with food. Then the thought or sight of food provokes a desire for it and we say that the child has a good appetite.

The child without appetite may be a sick child, or a tired child, or a punished child. Moods and emotions have a very direct influence upon the desire to eat.

For a parent to treat a child with a good appetite as if it were a manifestation of naughtiness; and to punish it as such, is to be completely without understanding of the child's behavior.

Food should be pleasing to the taste and the eye. It should be offered at such intervals as the

The Alberta CCF party's platform for the next provincial election has been indicated by the provincial convention's adoption in principle of various resolutions which formulate the basis of the program.

THE PROPOSED platform contains five main planks corresponding to the panel reports which are presented to the convention and adopted by the delegates. The main planks are: natural resources, agriculture, social services,
